Barbara Ana - The rampant Cats Sampler (cross stitch pattern chart)

The Rampant Cats Sampler

COUNTED CROSS STITCH CHART BY BARBARA ANA DESIGNS

The traditional looking sampler is full of unexpected surprises, such as the ones Barbara Ana loves to place in her designs. Look closely and you will notice that the gentleman and the lady differ from Adam and Eve, not only because they are fully dressed, but because they seem to be tempting the snake, not the other way round, and further more they are holding a pumpkin!

There are many interesting details to stitch in this rather large sampler such as the rampant cats that seem to be levitating on their hind legs.

Colors have been very carefully selected by Barbara Ana for this sampler. In two areas, she uses a combination of 2 strands in different colors so as to create the exact hue she is looking for.

Note: text "All hallowes Eve" and initials are stitched over a single thread, so select a needlework fabric such as linen or evenweave that can be stitched over 2 threads for the main motif, but let's you switch to 1 thread when needed.
