CROSS STITCH PATTERN READY TO DOWNLOAD, DESIGNED BY Faby Reilly Designs

Did you know that it could take more than 10 years to see a magnolia bloom?

No need to wait that long to appreciate these decorative flowers. Here is a tribute by Faby Reilly to the beauty of the magnolia flower in all its stages - in bud, with petals about to open and in full bloom. The design has been adapted on several projects including this charming bookmark, a neat gift idea for any friends and family who enjoy books..

The bookmark project also comes with a companion, a little fob, like a tiny purse into which you can slip a key or a couple of coins.

The design mostly involves cross stitch and backstitch, with some decorative eyelet stitches. The arabesque in the background is worked in a DMC Variations floss.

Faby Reilly puts a lot of emphasis on the finishing of her needlework. The cross stitch chart comes with two very comprehensive tutorials, one for the bookmark, the other for the fob, in order to achieve perfect finishes, as well as a guide for all specialty stitches.
