Twilight - Ornament

CROSS STITCH PATTERN READY TO DOWNLOAD, DESIGNED BY Gracewood Stitches

Here's the Twilight Ornament by Gracewood Stitches, a prism-like play with light, that looks almost like a crystal.

Designer Kathy Bungard says:

Twilight has always been my favorite time of day. Here on Gracewood there is no more beautiful evening than those we get on a clear cold winter night. The snow white mountain tops stand out starkly against a cold blue sky

that as the sun

sets suffuses our eastward view in soft dusky pink that then turns to a pale violet deepening in hue until it turns a deep dark violet and the evening stars stand out brightly above the mountains. We're reminded of the star that shined brighter than any ever did announcing the greatest good news the world has ever known ~ 'Joy to the World, the Lord is come'~ Creative Poppy recommends a jewel-like finish using beads. A tutorial is included with the pattern to guide you step by step.

The cross stitch design is perfectly symmetrical so you can hang it by one of its tips as featured or rotate it slightly and finish it as an octagon (which would make a perfect coaster) - see lower picture.
