Balloon alphabet

COUNTED CROSS STITCH CHART BY MARIA DIAZ

Here's a fun alphabet for stitching the name of a little boy or girl. It has many colorful kites flying in the wind. All are different and interesting to cross stitch. Each letter is an independent "cube". You can combine these letters to form names or words such as in the example opposite with the name "Joseph".

We suggest printing out an extra copy of the chart pages so you can cut up and combine letters.

The pattern is designed to be stitched on a white background, filling in the background of the cubes with blue. You could however easily transpose the chart to use a color fabric and stitch the letters in white instead.
